Abstract

Bernie Goulet, Veterans Remember, VRK-A-L-2009-001

Biographical Information Overview of Interview: Bernie Goulet was born on April 22nd, 1931 in Springfield, Illinois. Bernie grew up in Springfield during the Great Depression, and had many memories as a young boy during the Second World War, having two older brothers in the service. It was during this time that he decided he wanted to go into the military, and he enlisted after graduating from Springfield High School in 1949. Following Basic Training in Fort Riley, Kansas, he was assigned to Fort Carson, Colorado where he went through ski training, then was assigned to a tank unit. When the Korean War began in June of 1950, Goulet volunteered for combat duty. He was flown to Japan and was assigned to the 1st Battalion, 31st Infantry Regiment, part of the 7th Infantry Division, then being reorganized.

Goulet participated in the Inchon landing in September of 1950, then landed at Iwon in Northern Korea, and took part in the fighting in and around the Chosin Reservoir. The division was evacuated from Hungnam in early December, 1950 along with the rest of the X Corps. By early January, following the reorganization of the 7th Division due to heavy casualties, the 31st Infantry Regiment was sent into the line, now stretching just north of Seoul. Over the next several months, Goulet and his unit saw heavy action as the front line moved south of Seoul, then north again, then reeled back with the Chinese Spring Offensive of April 1951. By the time Goulet left Korea in June of 1951, the line had finally stabilized. He was discharged from the Army in October, 1951, and soon joined the U.S. Army Reserves but otherwise returned to civilian life, spending most of his working life at the Post Office. Bernie passed away on November 16, 2021 at the age of 90.
