Abstract

Dianna Hatfield, Oral History of IL Agriculture, AIS-V-L-2008-086

Biographical Information Overview of Interview: Dianna Rene Hatfield was born on January 31, 1989 in Lincoln, Illinois. Dianna explained that through her childhood she had lived in numerous places around Illinois since her father has managed farms for numerous investors. Dianna has two sisters and a brother and she explained that living in the country on a farm meant that her siblings were her playmates. Through all the moves Dianna has always been involved with 4-H and FFA. She explains that both programs center on personal chosen projects. The projects can range from presentations to raising animals and Dianna has done both. Her favorite project was to teach elementary agricultural education at a local elementary school. After completing high school, Dianna went on to the local community college where she majored in agricultural business. She currently plans to go to a University for agricultural business specifically focused on the agricultural futures markets. Over the summer Dianna has been working as a soil sampler using both GPS and maps to locate where the samples should come from.

Topics Covered: 4-H, FFA, Agriculture's Future, Livestock Judging,

Note to the Reader: Readers of the oral history memoir should bear in mind that this is a transcript of the spoken word, and that the interviewer, interviewee and editor sought to preserve the informal, conversational style that is inherent in such historical sources.
