

Summer Reading Club

Look Both Ways: A Tale Told in Ten Blocks

In Look Both Ways, author Jason Reynolds describes a bus as a command center, a pillow fort that rolls, a nurse's cot, a safe zone, a war zone, a concert hall, a stage, and a magic show full of disappearing acts.

A school bus represents so many things to the people on it.

Use this coloring sheet to illustrate what the school bus means to you.

